

Hollingbourne News...

Well, the sun is finally shining once again, let's hope it lasts! It's the first full week we have back in school and the children are now back in full swing of their learning. Early Years and Key Stage One children tell us the school was so quiet without Key Stage Two (I think they missed us!)

We've been busy this week at Hollingbourne with lots of sports activities taking place at the local Greenfields School. Lots of football tournaments were played. Our children did amazingly well and the KS2 boys got as far as the Quarter Finals! Everyone did so brilliantly – collaboration and resilience were evident in bags! Well done to you all.

Now we are fully recovered and have all caught up on our sleep from the KS2 trip to Broadstone Warren, we are looking to hold a special evening celebration of our trip; showcasing the photographs kindly taken by Mr Stevens and listening to some of the children's fond memories of the trip. A date will be published soon, so watch this space!

Here's hoping the weather stays pleasant, have a fantastic weekend.

Secondary Transition Tip #1:

Find out who else is going to the same school and encourage friendships. It will be nice for your child to have a familiar face in the first few weeks. Remind them they will make new friends.
