

Hollingbourne News...

It's been an action packed week this week...

We had our annual Summer Concert where, as usual, our children performed amazingly playing various musical instruments and singing for us. They wowed everyone with their talents and it was truly a magnificent event.

We also had our Key Stage Two celebration evening looking at photographs taken on our recent residential. The children also shared some of their funny and fond memories of the trip. The children received various award certificates for achievements over the three days spent at Broadstone Warren.

Thank you to parent volunteers and Friends who kept us supplied in refreshments both evenings.

At Hollingbourne, we have also had two celebration maths days this week, kindly organised by Mrs Jones. The activities completed over the two days were practical and really got the children thinking and using their problem solving skills. They also produced some fantastic art work. It is truly phenomenal!

All art work is currently being displayed in the hall, so please feel free to come along and look at our wonderful gallery.

Child Voice

“Can Year 6 wear their end of year hoodies to Chessington?”

Yes, of course, but you must take care not to lose or spoil them.

Parent Voice

Secondary Transition Tip #2:

If you haven't already done so, think about how you can help your child to be more independent: at home. Do they put clothes away? Complete simple jobs like making their own bed or sandwiches? Make hot drinks etc?
