

Hollingbourne Primary School

“A learning community– developing hearts and minds”

Dear Parents,

I am pleased to tell you that I have set up a school Twitter account. You can access this by downloading the Twitter app onto your phone or tablet and following us using the following address:

@HollingbournePS

Twitter is an online news and social networking service where users post and interact with messages. This will mean that I can post news from school, including children's achievements, forthcoming events and so on. We may publish photos of the children, but will only post pictures including your child if you have given us specific permission to do so (on the photographs permission form which will be sent out shortly).

It will also mean that you can comment and contribute with your own messages too, for example, sports or music achievements outside of schools, or responses to achievements posted in school.

I would ask that this account is not to be used to inform the school of your child's absence, and is not used to publish personal posts of concern, or complaint. As always, if you do have any concerns please talk to me.

Happy tweeting!

Kind regards,

Helen Bradley-Wyatt
Headteacher
