

SOUTH AMERICA

South America is the fourth largest continent in the world. It is home to the largest volume river in the world – Amazon River.

South America is made up of twelve different countries. It is bordered by the Atlantic Ocean on the east coast and the Pacific Ocean on the west coast. English, French, Spanish, Portuguese as well as many different types of indigenous languages too.

The people of South America speak many different type of languages, many were influenced by the settlers from Europe. Languages include English, French, Spanish and Portuguese. There are also many different indigenous languages spoken there too.

Vocabulary:

Physical geography – looks at the physical structures and workings of the natural world, for example, mountains, seas, oceans, glaciers, rivers and so on.

Human geography – explores the people, communities and culture of different places and countries.

Settlements – places where people establish communities.

Economics – how things are produced and consumed as well as bought and sold.

Population – the inhabitants of a particular place.

Life Expectancy – the average time a person may expect to live.

*Amazon River (left)
Brazilian Rainforest
(right)*